FROM: Lisa Weigel, Chief Policy Officer

SUBJECT: Science Extended Standards Review

EDUCATOR PARTICIPANTS NEEDED FOR SCIENCE EXTENDED STANDARDS COMMITTEE REVIEW

The Wyoming Department of Education (WDE) is seeking Special Education educators who are interested in serving on the Wyoming Science Extended Standards Review Committee. This committee will work on aligning extended standards for students with the most significant cognitive disabilities to the newly adopted 2016 Wyoming Science Standards. Participants need to attend a three-day work session from July 10 to 12 in Cheyenne. Those interested in serving on this committee should complete the Call for Extended Science Participants Survey by May 7, 2017.

Completing this survey expresses interest in participating, but does not commit anyone to serving on the Review Committee at this time. Standards committee members will be chosen from the list of those interested based on diversity in experience and region or school size. Members will be contacted through the e-mail address provided in the survey.
