PRESS Release

Local Teacher of the Year, Christine Horsen, Receives Accolades

Park County School District #16 teacher, Christine Horsen, received the district Teacher of the Year award for 2015, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Cindy Hill. Horsen, a teacher for 14 years, serves as first grade teacher at Meeteetse School.

“I believe it is a teacher’s responsibility to instill the love of learning in students and show them that learning is fun and exciting,” Horsen says. “When students enter our classroom, they find a welcoming environment where they know they come first. This is their classroom.”

Horsen, who will receive a crystal apple award from the Wyoming Department of Education, says, “Always remember the children. I am so fortunate to be a part of such a noble and rewarding profession.”
