State Board to hold meeting near Buffalo

Cheyenne – The Wyoming State Board of Education will hold their annual retreat September 10-12, 2007 at the HF Bar Ranch outside Buffalo, WY.

The first day will consist of a presentation by Dr. Kurt Fischer on Mind, Brain and Education. An educational roundtable discussion will follow involving members of the SBE, WDE, legislators and education leaders from around the state.

The board will hold a work session on the second day, Sept. 11. They will receive an update on the standards review process, review and update their strategic plan as well as reviewing their budget needs for 2009-2008 and setting their meeting schedule for the next year.

The board will hold its regular business meeting on Sept. 12. During the meeting, they will receive an update from Dr. Jim McBride, approve their schedule for the year and receive a presentation on the grant for instructional facilitators.

State board meetings are open to the public. If you have any questions contact Jennifer Duncan at 6213 or jdunca@educ.state.wy.us. The agendas are available on the Wyoming Department of Education website.
