The content of the two webinars will center on how Wyoming's anonymous tip line operates, how to get an incident specific flyer circulated, how to ensure a district's contacts are at the WeTip office, and how to make the tool work effectively for you.

Interested parties are invited; particularly teachers, administrators, school resource officers, and other school staff who work with students. It is anticipated that attendees will be able to communicate to students the importance of the tip line and its role in school safety.

To register, please contact Vanessa Martin at graphics@wetip.com. There are only 15 seats per webinar. One can also contact the Facilities and School Safety Consultant, Bruce Hayes, at 307-777-6198 for questions.

This will include requesting and providing information for an incident specific flyer, how to get the WeTip information throughout the schools to teachers, counselors, food service workers, and students.
