Curriculum Directors

FROM: Brent Bacon, Chief Academic Officer

DATE: April 24, 2017

SUBJECT: Future Ready Regional Summit

FUTURE READY SCHOOLS REGIONAL INSTITUTE

The Alliance for Excellent Education will hold a Future Ready Schools Regional Summit in Denver, Colorado on July 13-14, 2017. The Wyoming Department of Education took the statewide Future Ready Pledge in September of 2016, and invites all interested districts to attend this Future Ready Institute. The goal of attending the summit is to guide and support districts in making the transition to becoming Future Ready and moving as quickly as possible towards preparing students for success in college, career, and citizenship through personalized student learning.

The Future Ready Summit is a day and a half team event which focuses on a comprehensive set of components that drive student learning, which are articulated in the Future Ready Framework. This working summit will provide engaging activities, expert support, focused objectives, and team time dedicated to developing plans for using technology to improve and personalize student learning. Teams will leave the summit inspired and ready to take the next step to becoming Future Ready schools.
