CODE.ORG COMPUTER SCIENCE SUMMER WORKSHOPS

Code.org will host two five-day Computer Science workshops this summer: Computer Science Discoveries (grades 6-10) and CS Principles (grades 9-12). These workshops will be held in Casper from July 8-12, and are open to educators who are interested in teaching Code.org courses. No prior computing experience is required.

These workshops are free to attend, thanks to donations from Code.org. Curriculum for teachers and students is also available at no cost.

Learn more about commitments and criteria to attend here. To fill out an application, apply here.
