SUBJECT: Call for Virtual Proposals: 2021 Wyoming Innovations in Learning Conference

CALL FOR VIRTUAL PROPOSALS: 2021 WYOMING INNOVATIONS IN LEARNING CONFERENCE

The Wyoming Innovations and Learning Conference will be virtual again this year, with the entire conference offered online. The Innovations conference seeks engaging session proposals from educators in kindergarten through postsecondary education that will be delivered in an online format. The Innovations Planning Committee is seeking presenters from all fields willing to share ideas and experiences to help inspire educators to bring the best teaching practices to K-20 learning.

The fifth-annual Wyoming Innovations in Learning conference is set for September 30 – October 1, 2021.

Submit your proposal now through May 15, 2021. Selected presenters will be notified of their inclusion in the conference by June 11, 2021, and will receive free registration for the conference.

This conference is hosted by the Wyoming Department of Education, Wyoming Distance Education Consortium (WyDEC), University of Wyoming, Wyoming community colleges, Wyoming State Library, school libraries, and Wyoming Arts Council.
