SUBJECT: Wyoming Multi-Tiered System of Supports Center

WYOMING MULTI-TIERED SYSTEM OF SUPPORTS CENTER

The Wyoming Department of Education (WDE) is pleased to announce its partnership with the Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) Center at American Institutes of Research. This partnership has resulted in the Wyoming Multi-Tiered System of Supports (Wyoming MTSS) Center. The WDE has launched the Wyoming MTSS Center to build the capacity of local school districts to develop and successfully implement MTSS. The Wyoming MTSS Center will provide information, resources, and training opportunities to support local implementation of MTSS.

This project will include several facets, including universal trainings accessible to any educator in Wyoming and an intensive pilot project for selected sites. Visit Wyoming's MTSS webpage to learn Wyoming's definition of MTSS, its components, download resources, and view training opportunities. Additionally, initial webinars will take place on the following dates:

Wyoming MTSS Overview Webinar (same training on both dates):

From 3:30-5:30 p.m. MDT on April 27, 2021 (virtual). Register here.

From 3:30-5:30 p.m. MDT on May 5, 2021 (virtual). Register here.

MTSS: Building an Effective Tier 1 System

From 3:30-5:50 p.m. MDT on May 19, 2021 (virtual). Register here.

More information regarding additional resources, trainings, and implementation will be available in the coming months.
