INFORMED CONSENT, RELEASE OF LIABILITY, AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF IMMUNITY

Participating in activities requires you to accept risk that your child may sustain serious injury. The risk can be minimized by your child following instructor rules and procedures, being familiar with the rules of the activity, and following rules issued by manufacturers for safely using activity equipment. The risk may not be eliminated, but your child can help minimize it by making safety a shared responsibility. When you make the decision to allow your child to participate in an activity, you and your child are assuming the shared responsibility of following the activity's rules, the instructor's rules, and the equipment manufacturer's rules. Each participant can help make the activity safer by not using techniques that can cause serious injury.

Your signature below indicates that you have been informed about the importance of your child following rules in activities and you realize that there is an inherent risk of your child being injured in all activities. You realize that the risk of injury may be severe, including the risk of bone fractures, brain injuries, paralysis, or death. You agree to accept those risks and to hold harmless officials of the Native American Education Conference, the Wyoming Department of Education, and Central Wyoming College District in the event that your child sustains any injury.

Pursuant to Wyo. Stat. § 1-39-104(a), the State of Wyoming and any governmental entity reserve sovereign or governmental immunity in providing these activities and specifically retain all immunities and defenses available to them as sovereign or governmental entities. No provisions of this release may be construed as a waiver of sovereign immunity. Any ambiguity in this release as to sovereign or governmental immunity shall be construed in favor of immunity.
